COLOMBE, Ceylon (AP) — A French film unit bound for Ceylon to make a movie starring Brigitte Bardot was held captive on a Maldivian island after their yacht was attacked, the head of the team, Dr. Christian Johnstone, said today.

Three members of the company were held in prison for nearly a month until a Ceylonese friend applied pressure on the Maldivian Embassy in Colombo.

Beulah Whirls With Fury in the Gulf

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Stoking her fury in the warm Caribbean, killer hurricane Beulah whirled toward the Gulf of Mexico today while turnabout hurricane Doria menaced New England beaches.

Chloe, the third Atlantic storm, harassed shipping lanes far at sea, 500 miles east of Bermuda.

Beulah's cyclonic arms threatened western Cuba and the Yucatan Peninsula as she churned northwestward, 350 miles south of Havana and about 300 miles southwest of Miami.

Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center in Miami said the storm—blamed for 18 deaths before she lost much of her force earlier in the week—was rapidly regaining intensity. At mid-morning her top winds exceeded 85 miles an hour.

Doria, with peak winds of 90 miles an hour, was almost stationary about 250 miles southeast of Nantucket, Mass., traditional summer home of wealthy Easterners. Gale warnings were in effect from Provincetown, Mass., to Block Island, R.I.

Swimmers were advised to beware of heavy surf. Forecasters said Doria would move slowly toward the coast but probably would stop late tonight or Saturday.

Meanwhile, residents on Grand Cayman Island and on the tobacco-rich western provinces of Cuba were warned to prepare for fast action. Storm forecaster Joseph Pellissier said high tides and gale winds were expected along the southwestern Cuban coast by early afternoon.

"The long range look is toward the United States," said Pellissier, "but it is still too early to specify where it will hit. Once the storm moves into the Gulf it just about has to strike the mainland."

Girlie Magazines Are Confiscated

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Government agents confiscated nearly a million copies of girlie magazines Wednesday in a series of unexpected visits to publishing houses.

On the condemned list is the American magazine "Playboy" and its Spanish version, "Cavallero," published in Mexico City.

With Elections Coming Drag-along Condition of War Can't Last

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost certainly the present drag-along condition of the war in Vietnam can't continue indefinitely with the 1968 presidential election coming up. President Johnson can't afford to let it go on like that if he hopes for a second term, and no one doubts he does. One of the byproducts of the war is a drag-along condition in Congress.

From the time it opened shop last January Congress has been bumbling and stalling, big on talk, short on performance. And a lot of the past eight months in Congress has been used, particularly by senators, in finding fault with the war.

The mood there would have been different if Johnson had been able to devote his energies to his programs and the lawmakers instead of having to split his attention among Congress, the war, and the city riots.

No one knows better than Johnson the advantage for him in next year's election campaign if he could point back to a shining record with Congress in 1967. The last impressive record there was in 1965.

But the war haunts him. The doves who have no stomach for the war and the hawks who want a tougher one are both on his back. And, unless there is a change, he will still be in the middle, a wide open target, all through the 1968 campaign.

He's already had a taste of what's to come from at least two Republican presidential prospects, both governors: Ronald Reagan of California and George Romney of Michigan.

Romney, who says he thinks the presidential candidate with the best hope for victory is the one who talks peace, has developed a great distaste for the war. Reagan wants the war intensified to "win as quickly as possible."

Since the worst thing that could happen to Johnson in 1968 would be a continuance of the present stalemate, it will be to his interest to try to get peace negotiations started or to try to step up the war to break North Vietnam's back.

Yet, at this moment the Johnson Administration gives the impression of being baffled about how to do more in Vietnam or what to do next aside from the obvious things which everyone, including the North Vietnamese, knows it doesn't want to do.

It could finish North Vietnam in nothing flat, wiping it off the map, with nuclear bombs. Or, with conventional bombs, it could hit and destroy the centers of population, which is the only way North Vietnam can be crushed, according to Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense.

But if nuclear bombs were used, the Soviet Union, which is also a nuclear power, or Red China, or both, might feel compelled to get into the war. Besides, for the United States to use nuclear bombs against such a primitive people as the North Vietnamese would nauseate the world.

The world would be equally nauseated, and the Soviets and Chinese might feel compelled to get in, if the population centers were destroyed with ordinary bombs.

Not using either short-cut to

A HAZARDOUS OCCUPATION at best, show business in Vietnam is a deadly game for troupers like this singing group shown performing for U.S. Seabees at Chu Lai. The group travels throughout South Vietnam encouraging people to fight communism, which makes the young singers prime targets for Viet Cong terrorism.

VFW Poppy Day Scheduled Sept. 23

As we approach Veteran's Day Sept. 23, 1967, American servicemen are fighting and dying in another struggle to keep freedom alive. While poppies bloom amid crosses marking final resting places of honored Americans in many Flanders fields, we can hold our heads high in the knowledge that we have not failed the earlier defenders of freedom, that we have continued their "quarrel with the foe" wherever that foe has threatened the principles we hold dear, Mayor John B. Gardner said today.

"One way to help keep the faith is through the sale of V.F.W. Buddy Poppies, in many communities across the nation a traditional Veterans Armistice Day event. With the proceeds from the sale of these flowers of remembrance made by veterans, we help fulfill our pledge to honor the dead by helping the living. Veteran's relief projects and the V.F.W. National Home benefit from the poppy sale. To continue this vital work, I urge each of you to help make the 1967 Buddy Poppy sale the most successful in history," the mayor said.

Residency Ruling Is Defended

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A Circuit Court ruling that Lynn A. Davis was eligible to serve as state Police Director made Davis a legal resident of two states, Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell told a civic club here Thursday. "I know of no case in history of the courts that permits a man more than one legal residency," Purcell said.

Purcell said that was the reason he appealed Judge Warren E. Wood's ruling to the Arkansas Supreme Court. He wouldn't have appealed the case had he thought he would lose the case, he said.

The 1945 state law that established the State Police Department requires that the director be a resident of the state for the 10 years "next preceding" his appointment.

Davis, a native of Texarkana, spent the last 5½ years working outside Arkansas as an FBI agent, and had lived in Texarkana, Tex., about a year before joining the federal agency.

Wood, a former FBI agent, held that Davis had considered Arkansas his permanent home and therefore had been a resident of the state during the time he was with the FBI.

Purcell told his civic club audience that Davis registered May 13, 1966, as a Wyoming voter and swore under oath that he had been a resident of that state since 1964.

"The interesting thing here is that it was a voluntary declaration by Mr. Davis," Purcell said.

The attorney general said that if the Supreme Court upheld Wood's ruling, a person could qualify to vote in two states at the same time.

Lost Car But Show Went On

CHICAGO (AP) — The show went on even though the star's car caught fire. Actress Ruth Roman leaped from her burning auto Sunday night a few blocks from the Ambassador East Hotel, where she is staying.

Her chauffeur, Robert Stillman, called the fire department and Miss Roman jumped into a cab.

She got to the Ivanhoe Theater on time to appear in "Beekman Place."

Sees Gain of 31 Seats by State GOPs

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Republicans will gain as many as 31 General Assembly seats in the 1968 general election, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller predicted here Thursday night.

"I would be very disappointed if we didn't gain from 20 to 25 more seats in the House, and right off, I'd say at least half a dozen in the Senate," the governor told some 300 persons attending a public meeting held in connection with the 12th of his 14 regional tours of the state.

The GOP held only three of the 135 seats in the 1967 General Assembly, and all of those were in the House.

Rockefeller has said he intends to call a special session of the legislature in January, and he told his audience here that he hoped something could be done during the session to improve the state Penitentiary System.

"Punishment should never be the sole aim of a prison system," he said. "Rehabilitation must also be a goal. One of the best investments we could make now would be to initiate a good parole system."

Rockefeller supported a bill introduced during the last legislative session that would have abolished capital punishment, and he has been critical of state prison farm operations in general.

"I could never boast that our prison system made money, as did my predecessor," he said. Rockefeller said he had found during his tours of the state that few people shared his enthusiastic interest for the constitutional convention recommended by the state Constitutional Revision Study Commission, and he blamed the lack of interest on the news media.

He said he thought the media had failed to adequately inform the people of the many needed changes in the current document, which was adopted in 1874.

Prisoners Almost Escape at Wynne

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — Two prisoners at the Cross County Jail here had one leg up on an attempted escape early today before they were discovered.

Police said Toby Tiger (ca) and Preston Norman, both about 19, of St. Louis used a hacksaw to saw the bars of their cell and the bars on a window leading to the outside of the third-floor of the courthouse. Officers said they planned to slide down a rope made of blankets.

One of them had his leg out the window when they were discovered by Deputy Collector Harold Wood, who lives in the courthouse, police said.

The pair was transferred to another cell. It was not known how they obtained the hacksaw, authorities said.

Model Cities Delayed Until Money Voted

By JACK MILLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development is expected to postpone announcing its long-awaited choices for the model cities program until Congress completes action on funding requests for it, sources say.

A total of 193 cities want planning grants.

The sources said HUD officials may already have decided it would be poor strategy to make the announcement just before final congressional action—expected within a few weeks.

The question is whether to risk losing support of congressmen who could be disappointed if their cities are not chosen, the sources said.

A spokesman for HUD Secretary Robert C. Weaver would say only that nothing is holding

Arnold Attends College for Judges

Circuit Judge William Arnold will return to his judicial duties in Hempstead County on Monday morning, Sept. 18, after spending four weeks on the campus of the University of Nevada. He was a participant in the National College of State Trial Judges.

Criminal arraignments and civil pre-trial conferences will be held Monday at 9:30 a.m.

Judge Arnold was one of the 140 trial judges from 50 states chosen to attend the August session of the College. He was chosen from nearly 500 applicants; and received a Fellowship. He has been studying under a faculty of judges, lawyers and law professors of national reputation.

The College, now in its fourth year, is sponsored by the American Bar Association and the National Conference of State Trial Judges. Increased interest in recent years has compelled the College to conduct two sessions each summer and to treble the number of participants.

GOPs Seek to Force Board to Seat Them

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge Warren E. Wood, who heard the suit challenging Lynn A. Davis' eligibility to be State Police director, is scheduled to hear another case with Republican-Democrat overtones.

Wood plans to hear arguments today on a petition from seven Republicans seeking seats on election commissions in their home counties.

The petition, filed Aug. 26, asked Wood to force the state Election Commission to grant seats to Frank Ellis of Arkansas County, Franklin S. Garrison of Boone County, T. O. Porter of Hempstead County, Chester Andres of Howard County, Maxine G. Reed of Dallas County, Marguerite Turner of Union County and James W. Hurley of Washington County.

The state commission, composed of Arkansas' seven constitutional officers and the state chairmen of the Democratic and Republican parties, awarded the seats to Democrats Aug. 1, rejecting each of the Republicans by a vote of 6-2.

At Gov. Maurice Britt and state Republican Chairman Odell Pollard of Searcy cast the dissenting votes, while Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, the chairman and the only other Republican on the commission, didn't vote.

The Democratic commissioners — Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell, Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, state Treasurer Nancy Hall, state Auditor Jimmie "Red" Jones and state Land Commissioner Sam Jones — asked that the petition be dismissed.

State law provides that the "majority party" gets to name the third member of each county election commission. At issue in this case is the definition of "majority party."

The Republicans contend it's the party that received the most votes in the governor's race in the preceding general election. Since Rockefeller polled the most votes last year, that would give the GOP the honor.

The Democrats contend the Republican Party isn't the majority party since its members hold only two of the constitutional offices and three of the 135 seats in the General Assembly.

The three-member county commissions are composed of the county chairmen of the Democratic and Republican parties and one person selected by the majority party.

That means, of course, that the party that names the third member controls the county election apparatus.

Man across the desk says that, in his house, it's "television." His wife never stops talking while the set's turned on.

Ozarka Program Authorized in the House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House defeated Thursday night an amendment that would have killed the Ozarks development program and then went on to pass a two-year authorization to extend the Appalachian Regional Development Act, which includes funds for Ozarka and four other regional development projects.

Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., offered the amendment to strike the authorizations for Ozarka and the other four regions because, he said, the Johnson administration had not sought them at this time.

Cramer said the Appalachian program was in trouble and that the regional authorizations had been added to the bill in order to gain votes for the entire Appalachian measure from congressmen from 19 states in the five regions.

Cramer's amendment failed on a standing vote.

Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., speaking against the amendment, said regional development programs were in line with Republican philosophy of helping poor persons help themselves.

Hammerschmidt and Rep. David H. Pryor, D-Ark., voted for the final passage. Rep. E. C. "Toot" Gathings, D-Ark., whose district is not in Ozarka, voted against it.

MEXICAN TELEVISION offers a lot of location shots, such as this one from a soap opera called The Constitution.

Soaps Are Clean in Mexico

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

MEXICO CITY, Mexico—(NEA)—Your first thought as you walk into the television studio where a popular Mexican "habon" opera is about to tape several episodes is that an invasion of vampires has been successfully repelled.

Everybody in the studio is wearing a tiny flesh-colored bandage.

Then you notice the thin flesh-colored wires running into the bandage and finally the tiny earplug everyone is wearing. You are seeing an "apuntador," a Mexican invention. It's a closed circuit walkie-talkie and the actors who are wearing them are getting their lines and stage directions from a prompter sitting above the studio in a tiny room.

"I think everything is against the actor here in Mexico," said Raphael Banquels, a respected stage star appearing in the series Adriana. "We have bad production. We don't have time to learn our lines. The pay is very bad and so we also have to work on the stage and in films to make a living."

Soap operas are the most popular form of viewing in Mexico. They run for something like 60 episodes when the cliff-hanging story concludes. The titles could be misleading. They sound like headlines from lurid magazines, "Forbidden Love," "Anguish for the Past," "Sublime Love," "Love in the Desert." (Even Adriana began life as a love-ly. "The Love You Did Not Want.") Despite the titles, the rule of Mexican television is not to air anything that could offend a child of 15.

The stations have their own watchdogs, in addition to the government censor. The station watchdog gets a soap opera script and blue pencils everything he might think is objectionable. Then the script goes back to the producer who rewrites it. Back to the censor and then to the set where chances are the script will be rewritten again.

Violence is not allowed, and the scissors are used liberally on some American products. Over 20 pages of script were once cut from a Wild Wild West episode. Hardly ever does fist collide with face in Mexico. You'll see someone draw back to clobber an opponent. Then there is a cut and the opponent is stretched out on the floor.

For this reason, hour-long shows don't run for an hour. Sometimes programs come on five minutes early. Sometimes 20 minutes late. Sometimes, even, they are on time.

Currently Telesistema Mexicano, S.A., is running The Constitution. This is a 90-episode soap opera based on the story of Juarez, who freed Mexico from Maximilian's rule. The 30-minute episodes run five afternoons a week, with a resume of the past week telecast on Saturday. It's a well-produced show with a lot of location work and a good performance from Jose Carlos Ruiz, who bears a remarkable resemblance to Juarez.

You can watch Fanatics A Go-Go if you're so inclined, and you may even get to see a popular singing group like Los Crazy Birds or Los Yaquis. (One of the Yaquis, due for a television appearance, was not allowed before the cameras by the Mexican censor until he had his long hair cut. When he did, the barber shop was besieged by his fans, trying to get some hair. Eventually, his record company got hold of the left-over hair and packaged it with Los Yaquis latest album.)

But it's behind the scenes where things get confusing. There are three private enterprise channels (there is also a government-owned channel), which, everyone insists, are rivals for the viewing public. Only they somehow all seem to be owned by various members of the same family. The public relations director is 20 years old and someone's grandson. And everyone has a cozy working arrangement, with a producer from Channel 2 working elbow-to-elbow with a producer from Channel 4 while a producer from Channel 5 sits at his desk and watches them both.

O.K., Julian Goodman of NBC, Tom Dawson of CBS and Tom Moore of NBC, everybody out for the pool-office, that is.

Lt. Gov. Britt Raps Apathy of Citizens

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — If private citizens don't take an active interest in politics and government, their apathy will enable self-interested individuals and groups to exert too much influence, Lt. Gov. Maurice Britt told a civic club here Thursday.

Britt said he was amazed that so many otherwise good citizens showed so little interest in the forces that shaped their destiny.

The lieutenant governor also expressed concern over polls that indicate a greater interest in security than in opportunity among college students.

Overwhelming desire for security tends to "destroy motivation and incentive and replace them with too much reliance on the government," he said.

Britt said he expected no riots in Arkansas because of the state's progress in the civil rights field since 1957. The riots that have caused national unrest could be potentially more dangerous than wars on foreign soil, he added.

Not Really A River Although it is sometimes so-called, Argentina's Plata is not really a river. Actually, it is a shallow, fresh-water bay into which the river system flows.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

THE CLINGER STRIKES AGAIN

Dear Helen: I'll say nothing against my ex-wife except that we both agreed the marriage was a mistake. Now I'm married to a fine and understanding woman. I'm glad she is understanding because it looks like my former wife will be our burden for life.

She calls me as early as 6:30 a.m. and as late as midnight, asking questions that she could easily answer herself. Many times they don't even concern the children. She calls my wife during the day. Every time she is faced with the smallest decision, we get a buzz. She even visits us.

We pulled up stakes and moved to another state last year, mostly to get away from her, but she followed. She says "the children insisted." "They didn't."

She is not vindictive and she never was in love with me. But she is wholly dependent. She says she has to have a man's help in life. How can we get it across it shouldn't be me?—TRIED ALMOST EVERYTHING

Dear TAE: Have you tried aiming her toward a single man who likes dependent women? The only way you'll ring off this clinger is with wedding bells. —H

Dear Helen: Here is my answer to "Heartbroken" whose husband is unfaithful.

What makes a husband cheat in the first place? Not many are natural playboys. I think I might be able to partially answer that question as the man I love is married to another woman.

Crying because he is unfaithful is not the answer. Check yourself over. How many changes have you made since he married you? How much weight have you gained in the wrong places? How many times have you said to yourself, "I'll just slip into these old pants instead of a dress." "He won't notice if last week's ironing isn't done." "Lipstick? Why bother when we don't have company?"

Are your breakfast and lunch dishes still in the sink because the girls stayed too long? If you manage to scoop yourself out of bed in the morning, do you send him off to neat secretaries and smiling waitresses with sleep in your eyes and rollers in your hair, wearing the duster you should have washed last week?

Do you ever let him know you think he's wonderful? I could go on and on because HE tells me these things.

Most women make it easy to be the "last to know" because they won't admit to themselves that they don't continue their appeal after they hook the poor sap. —TRYING NOT TO BE HEARTBROKEN

Dear TNTBH: The "poor sap" tells you these things so that he'll feel less guilty, and you believe them for the same reason. Perhaps they're true—but no gentleman would downgrade his wife, even to his girl friend. I'd say you're dating a cad and a chaser. Toss him back! —H

After All the Food Was Free

PARIS (AP) — In what was billed as the world's biggest buffet, an estimated 42,000 Parisians crowded into Les Halles, the capital's central market, Wednesday to eat sea food.

Besides French love of food there was another reason for the crowd: The food was free. Bank presidents, salesmen, workers, panhandlers stood elbow to elbow at tables laden with sardines, trout, sole, codfish and oysters at the first "ashmangers feast."

When it was over, 10 tons of fish, 300,000 oysters, and untold gallons of wine had been consumed.

Texas A&M Choice Over Mustangs

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA and its celebrated quarterback, Gary Beban, rule an uneasy four-point favorite over rebounding Tennessee Saturday in the Los Angeles game that highlights college football's first busy weekend.

Texas A&M is a 10-point choice over Southern Methodist in the nationally televised feature at College Station, Tex., and both Southern California and Colorado are favored in contests involving teams expected to finish among the Top Ten in the country.

Southern Cal., seventh in the preseason poll of The Associated Press, is a six-point choice over Washington State in a Friday night game in Los Angeles, and Colorado, rated 10th, is rated nine points over Baylor at Boulder, Colo.

UCLA, with a 9-1 record last year, and Tennessee, 7-3 and winner over Syracuse in the Gator Bowl, are also rated among the year's best—UCLA picked eighth by a panel of experts and the Volunteers ninth.

The West Coast battle should produce one of the liveliest quarterback duels of the year.

Beban, a scrambling signal-caller who runs as well as he passes and who is advance favorite for Heisman Trophy honors, completed 156 of 309 passes during his first two seasons for 2,728 yards and ran for an additional 1,042 yards. He has scored 148 points.

Tennessee's antidote to Beban is a sharpshooting passer named Dewey Warren, who specialized in the bomb. On a team that has traditionally stayed on the ground, Warren completed 136 of 223 passes last season for 1,716 yards. His main target was a sure-fingered speedster named Richmond Flowers, who is back.

Southern California has come up again with a powerhouse team featuring a 6-foot-4, 220-pound fullback named Mike Hull, a flanker named Jim Lawrence, who can do the 100 in 9.6 seconds; O. J. Simpson, another nine-second man, and linemen who can move a house.

In the television game (ABC-TV, 4 p.m. EDT), the Texas Aggies will present the strongest threat to the conference title since Paul "Bear" Bryant left to go to Alabama. The Aggies have a good quarterback in Ed Hargett and excellent receivers in Tommy Maxwell and Tommy Buckman. SMU has been hit hard by graduation.

In other leading games, the Washington Huskies are a slight favorite over hefty Nebraska at Seattle, Wash., Oregon State is conceded a small edge over Stanford at Portland, Ore.; Duke is favored over Wake Forest at Raleigh, N.C.; Oklahoma State rates a touchdown over the Air Force Academy at Stillwater, Okla.

SAN FRANCISCO — Charley Austin, 158, San Diego, outpointed Rafael Gutierrez, 160½, Mexico, 10.

LOS ANGELES — Raul Rojas, San Pedro, Calif., outpointed Kang Il Suh, Korea, 15. Rojas retains California version of world junior lightweight title.

Devlin Is Leading at Philadelphia

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — B ruce Devlin said he has to do it again to believe it.

The 29-year-old Australian shot a seven-under-par 35-30—65 Thursday to take a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Devlin, who spreads 158 pounds sparingly on a 6-foot-1 frame, fired nine birdies in his best round in more than a year.

"I've been playing so bad I couldn't even beat my grandmother," said the blond Aussie after posting a two-stroke edge over Lou Graham and Bill Collins in the 72-hole test for the $22,000 first prize money.

Devlin toyed with the 6,708-yard, par-72 Whittemarsh Valley Country Club course.

Dropping his hands slightly on the putter in an effort to overcome his "terrible slump," he rolled in several long putts including a 35-footer on the 18th green.

"Let's wait and see if I can do it again before we get excited," said the cautious Devlin.

Bobcats to Journey to DeQueen

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

"Just another ball game," you may say, as the Hope Bobcats travel tonight to DeQueen to take on the Leopards.

Not so. Actually, tonight's slugfest will mark the beginning of a new season for the Cats. DeQueen, in the same district (7A) as the Prescott Curley Wolves, and the Leopards should be as tough as Prescott was last Friday.

With a season mark of 1-1, Hope desperately needs a victory tonight, before entering that tough conference road next week. And it shall be tougher if the Bobcats should lose tonight. One source probably rates DeQueen as a slight favorite, another might pick Hope by a point or two.

This source believes that a determined and rejuvenated Bobcat squad will realize that a win is imperative, and that Hope will pick up victory number two. Kickwater, Okla.

Bobkittens Win Over DeQueen

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Totally dominating play from the first whistle to the last, the Hope Bobkittens made it two in a row last night, whipping the DeQueen Leopards 20-0 at DeQueen.

This sent the Kittens to a 2-0 record on '67; a fine start for these young men who need confidence quickly. Last night they played like champs. The surprising breakthrough was the Hope ground game. With a back-breaking line opening gigantic holes for the backs, the Bobkittens never were challenged.

The first score was a 38-yard run by Gary Jones, capping a 56-yard drive. The PAT was no good, and Hope led 6-0 with 3:10 remaining in the first period. Quickly the Kittens struck again, gaining possession of the ball at the DeQueen 21 on a fumble recovery by Ken McMahon. Several plays later Ronnie Massanelli passed to Danny Putman for ten yards and the TD.

Putman ran for the point after, and Hope now led 13-0.

The rest of the first half was scoreless with the Bobkittens running away with the statistics by halftime. The Hope running game was virtually unstoppable all night.

The nightcap was provided in the third quarter, on Hope's first possession of the second half. The Bobkittens took over on their own 9-yard line and marched 91 yards for the score. Once again this time it was the Massanelli-to-Putman combination going eight yards to pay dirt. They connected once again for the extra point and the Bobkittens had their 20-0 game with 0:27 left in the third period.

Substitutes finished most of the rest of the game, and complete victory was ours in a game played mostly in a drizzling rain. Head Bobkitten Coach Gaylord Solomon commented that "a good effort by the whole team" was the main cause of victory. Then, true to the coaching profession, he added, "But we will most likely meet our roughest test next week against Arkadelphia."

Gary Jones was the leading rusher in the game with 10 carries for 145 yards. He was followed by Putman, who had 12-60. Henry Pike led all DeQueen rushers with 9-24. The Bobkitten line also flattened their heavier opponents with good performances throughout the game.

Turbine Car Is Banned Indirectly

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The U.S. Auto Club has indirectly banned the controversial turbine car in next year's Indianapolis 500-mile race, but the car's owner and builder says it will be entered anyway.

Anthony Granatelli told the Los Angeles Times: "I have no intention of running any other car. I will be there with the same car . . . the same engine and the same chassis."

In the 1967 race the Granatelli jet car piloted by Parnelli Jones had peering trouble and was forced out. But the USAC later ruled the car ineligible by placing limitations on the turbine engine.

Chicago Wins Extra Inning Game

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox, whose ability to win with a minimum of runs is beginning to reach ridiculous proportions, have picked up a new and unexpected route.

For the second time in as many days, the White Sox, in fourth place in the tight American League pennant scramble, went into extra innings in a scoreless tie with Cleveland Thursday, and for the second time, they came out winners. The score was 4-0.

Today, the Sox open a three-game series with Minnesota, tied with Boston for the league lead, and the heavy-hitting Twins aren't likely to give Chicago all those extra innings to get some runs.

Somebody who hopes the Sox score early and often is Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers, who are in third place, a game behind Boston and Minnesota.

"This is the first time all year I'll be rooting for Stanky," said Kaline of Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky. The Tigers have no more games left with the Twins and must depend on the other clubs to help out by beating the front-runners.

In the only other major league game scheduled Thursday, Atlanta beat the New York Mets 5-4 in the National League.

Chicago and Cleveland, who went 17 innings Wednesday before the White Sox won 1-0, seemed ready to do it again Thursday.

Cisco Carlos, a rookie pitcher just up from Indianapolis, was performing brilliantly on the mound, but the Chicago bats were silent, as is often the case.

Carlos didn't allow a single man past second base for the Indians and surrendered only five hits. Meanwhile, three Cleveland hurlers—Steve Hargan, Stan Williams and Orlando Pena—stopped the Sox until the fateful 10th.

Singles by Ron Hansen and Duane Josephson and an intentional pass to Smoky Burgess loaded the bases with one out. Ken Boyer struck out, but then Pena delivered a grand slam home run ball to Don Buford and that ended it.

Chicago now is 2½ games behind the front-runners, a difficult but hardly impossible situation to recover from.

The Braves beat the Mets on Mike de la Hoz' two-run single in the ninth. Hank Aaron and Mack Jones homered for the Braves and Ed Kranepool hit a three-run shot for the Mets.

Egad! Here we are, friends, at the start of another collegiate pigskin crusade and your favorite correspondent is all set for a big season of football forecasting.

To assist me in the difficult days ahead I've added two men to my immediate staff. One, Prof. A. Nonymous, a heretofore silent contributor, will cover the southern and eastern teams. The other, Buck Schot, a retired Chicago detective and an astute student of football, will report on mid-western eleveners.

Two of my longtime assistants will return. Dr. I. M. Inorbit will patrol the Far West and Southwest, while Hannibal Wottaburp, the pride of Missouri, will work with me in the office and see duty on special field trips.

The Hoople Forecast of 1967, will, I assure you, be more stupendous than ever before. And that, dear readers, is saying a mouthful, if I may be allowed to coin a phrase—har-rumph!

Now onward and upward to a glorious season! Let us dispose of this week's hot potatoes first. Three en-

Watch for A&M to hand the defending conference champion Mustangs at 21-14 setback, and for quarterback Dewey Warren to fire the Tennessee Volunteers to a 14-10 triumph over the UCLA's led by brilliant Gary Beban. DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
'Dead' Fetus Sometimes Found to Be Healthy Baby
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—If a baby dies in the third month of pregnancy and the mother does not have a miscarriage, why would her doctor let her carry the child instead of putting her in labor? Isn't there danger of infection if she continues to carry the child?

A—A diagnosis of death of the fetus in the early months of pregnancy sometimes turns out to be erroneous and the mother goes on to deliver a live, healthy baby. There is no danger of harm to the mother in postponing the delivery of a dead fetus for eight or 10 weeks if necessary to be sure of the diagnosis. In the meantime, if the baby is dead, the mother may abort spontaneously.

Q—A week before the expected date of delivery, my doctor induced labor. He did not give any reason for this. What could be the reason?

A—The usual reasons for inducing labor are to facilitate labor if the mother's pelvic measurements are small, especially if there is evidence of an oversized whenever possible.

Eric's jump to four spades is typical of their style. A scientist would probably bid three of some other suit and hope that his partner would be able to go to game with this extra encouragement.

Eric won the club lead in his own hand and played his ace of trumps hopelessly. Singleton kings are possible. The king did not appear and Eric led a club to dummy's king, ruffed a club and threw East in with a trump. He would have preferred to have thrown West in but East held that king.

East led the three of diamonds and Eric made the "lucky" play of the jack. This forced the ace. Later, all Eric had to do was to lead a heart from dummy and find East with the ace.

This was luck all right, but it also was very correct play. East had shown up with the king-jack of spades, and jack of clubs. If he held both aces he would have opened the bidding. Then it wouldn't have done Eric any real good to make the winning diamond play if East held that ace. He just had to play East for the ace of hearts and West for the ace of diamonds if he was going to make his contract.

Besides being correct, Eric did have one bit of real luck. The diamond lead forced him to make the right guess. A heart lead would have given him a chance to go wrong in that suit.

Milwaukee Braces for Disorders

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Milwaukee braced today for possible weekend opening demonstrations.

The city was relatively calm Thursday after four nights of battles between brick and bottle throwing whites and police firing tear gas.

About 50 police officers wearing riot helmets and carrying night sticks patrolled the troubled South Side area after two straight nights of violence.

Some 200 Negro open housing marchers trooped from their headquarters in the Inner Core toward the South Side, where they had been stoned earlier in the week. Then they turned down Milwaukee's main street, Wisconsin Avenue, to City Hall. They circled the building and returned to the Inner Core without incident.

The Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest and adviser to the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has vowed he will continue the open housing demonstrations until the Common Council enacts an open housing code. The council has rejected an open housing code four times.

Firebombs Still Sear in Detroit

By BILL SIMMONS
DETROIT (AP) — The flash of firebombs still sears the night air in Detroit.

Gun stores have been robbed of at least 600 firearms in the past month.

After the fall of the city's reputation as a model for race relations, the terror lingers from what is being called one of the worst riots in U.S. history.

Pharmacist Al Plachta, a white man, told an interviewer in his drugstore that he sensed it.

"There's no particular place in Detroit where the possibility of trouble doesn't exist," Plachta said. "I get the feeling the whole town is unsafe."

On 12th Street, where a Sunday in July exploded into violence that snuffed out 43 lives, a Negro, Isaac Drake, warned, "You damn right it's going to start again and there's going to be a hell of a lot more shooting and killing this time."

Rocks and bottles pelted firemen making emergency runs into the heart of the area raked by riot July 23-30.

Some firemen want to carry guns on the job—and a few reportedly already do.

Deputy Fire Chief Rolland

McFadden said there were 142 incendiary fires in Detroit in August, more than 100 above the normal rate, and at least 33 were set by gasoline firebombs.

He blamed "young adolescents trying to follow the example set by their elders during the rioting."

Targets of the firebombs, McFadden said, include garages, businesses and homes.

Most of the firebombing, he said, has been confined to the areas hardest hit in the rioting, the near West Side and some East Side sections.

Earl J. Berry, head of the 1,850-man Detroit Fire Fighters Association, said firemen still are stoned and threatened when answering alarms in the battered areas.

French to Aid Canadian Province
QUEBEC (AP) — France plans a 10-fold increase in cultural aid to the French-speaking Canadian province of Quebec, where President Charles de Gaulle touched off a furor last July by proclaiming independence slogans.

French Education Minister Alain Peyrefitte said Paris will, over the next three years, create a pool of French teachers for service in Quebec and increase scholarships in France for Quebec students from the current 90 to about 1,000.

Peyrefitte said these were only a few examples of the plans.

Pro Football Winners for Weekend Play

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — It's time to start the weekly pro football guessing game with the National Football League opening its regular season Sunday and the AFL already into its third week. All games are played Sunday afternoon this week.

NFL
Baltimore 31, Atlanta 14—Colts coming up to opener smartly with impressive exhibition win over Dallas. John Unitas on the beam. Falcons showed little offense against Vikings and Saints.

Pittsburgh 13, Chicago 7—A real tough one. Steelers on rebuilding program. Bears have come back from disaster at Kansas City and are always dangerous with Gale Sayers in the line-up. We like Bill Nelsen over the Bears' quarterbacks.

Dallas 28, Cleveland 21—An upset. Cowboys have been slow to jell this year. Browns floundered through five games but really bombed Vikings last week. Two clubs split in 1966. Dallas will be different club now that they count.

Green Bay 27, Detroit 10—Packers have perfect 6-0 exhibition record and have beaten Lions in five of their last six. Lombardi gets off winging toward another title, but Lions always are tough in this traditional series.

Los Angeles 31, New Orleans 14—George Allen shooting for all the marbles this year after impressive pre-season 6-0 record. Rams beat Saints 16-7 in Aug. 2 exhibition.

New York 17, St. Louis 14—Another upset. Giants have chance to whip Cards without Charley Johnson, despite ever-changing defensive personnel.

San Francisco 24, Minnesota 13—The 49ers have been disappointing in preseason, but John Brodie is about due to let the Vikings have it right between the eyes.

Washington 21, Philadelphia 17—Another one of those long, bitter rivalries. They split in each of last two years.

AFL
Oakland 17, Boston 10—Raiders erupted last week in 51-0 romp over Denver. Boston lost its second straight at San Diego.

Miami 21, Denver 14—The Dolphins took the exhibition game from Denver 19-2, July 29. Should do it again in their first league game. Broncos still shell-shocked.

Buffalo 27, Houston 20—Bills just did pull it out over Jets last week. Oilers gave Kansas City surprisingly tough battle before losing 25-20. Jackie Kemp back at the controls.

San Diego, New York and Kansas City are idle.

Negroes in Chicago Toss Rocks, Curses

CHICAGO (AP)—Negroes thronged the streets of a South Side neighborhood Thursday, hurling rocks and curses at police after a meeting protesting alleged police brutality.

The skirmishing and window-smashing began after the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and other neighborhood groups held a street rally protesting the alleged police beating of an 18-year-old Forestville High School girl student.

By the time it ended, some seven hours later, 13 persons—including 6 policemen—were injured and 47 persons were under arrest on charges including aggravated battery, mob action and disorderly conduct.

Almost 300 extra police were moved into the area around the high school. The street crowds, tossing rocks at passing cars and screaming insults, were estimated at 1,000 persons at times.

Joyce Brown, executive secretary of SNCC in Chicago, charged that the girl, Corrine Roby, 18, was beaten Tuesday by two policemen, one white and one Negro. She said SNCC and other groups called a protest rally for noon near the high school.

Japs Recall Envoy to Cambodia
TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government recalled its ambassador to Cambodia today but refused to say whether the action was related to Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's decision to cancel an official visit to that country.

A foreign office official said Ambassador Yukihisa Tamurap would come home within the next month. He declined to say when he would return to his post.

MR. PENNEY AT 92

Post Office Wants Public to Use Zips

While he uses a cane "just to please the doctors," Mr. Penney is particularly proud of this one. Loaned to him for life by a collector of objects once owned by Benjamin Franklin, it was especially made for and carried by Franklin. The cane, in dark wood with a silver is a modern addition.

As numbers go, 92 seems "betwixt and between"—two years past one benchmark and three short of the next.

Yet, in the life of a man, 92 holds marked significance. And this is especially true for James Cash Penney, who will observe his 92nd birthday on Saturday, Sept. 16.

For Mr. Penney, 92 is important in and of itself. But more than this, 92 represents another step on the way to the century mark, which Mr. Penney fully expects to reach.

People inside and outside J. C. Penney Company know that the founder of the department store chain is not going to stand still and wait for 100 to arrive, for activity continues to characterize his life.

While Mr. Penney has not been involved in direct management of the Company for many years, he continues to serve as a director and is deeply interested in the firm's continued progress. His office in the 45-story Penney Building in New York is for work, not show. There he works on his own business interests and maintains heavy correspondence with friends throughout the country. In addition, one of Mr. Penney's lifetime interests has been cattle-breeding, and he currently maintains a farm in upstate New York with an outstanding herd of purebred Angus cattle.

No, James Cash Penney definitely will not idly wait for 100 to get here. His current preoccupation as he approaches 92 is to make sure the year will be a full and satisfying one.

Battles Shapes Over Oil Allowance

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A new battle is shaping up in Congress over the 27 1/2 per cent oil depletion allowance—a tax break described as a sacred cow by its critics and a vital part of the national interest by its supporters.

The provision intact since its adoption by Congress in 1926, permits oil and gas producers to deduct for tax purposes up to 27 1/2 per cent of their gross income. The deduction cannot exceed half a producer's net income.

Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican member of the Senate Finance Committee, said he plans to carry the ball again in hopes of reducing the allowance to 20 per cent over three years.

His strategy will be to attach his amendment to President Johnson's bill for a 10 per cent surcharge on corporate and individual income taxes—should the House eventually send that measure to the Senate.

Failing this, Williams said he'll try to tack it to the administration's tax revision package which President Johnson promised to send to Congress this year.

Williams said he doesn't want to eliminate the allowance but merely to reduce it and force oil and gas companies to pay what he called their fair share of the tax load.

One supporter of the 27 1/2 per cent allowance, Rep. A. Sydney Herlong Jr., D-Fla., a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, disputed the loophole label frequently applied to the provision.

The allowance, Herlong said, enables the industry to meet the nation's steadily increasing need for oil at a reasonable price to consumers.

Supporters contend it's needed to help offset the costs of finding and developing new oil resources.

Each of the eight postal cards in the kit will contain a message encouraging the general use of ZIP Code. There will be a ninth card of instructions. All will be folded together like a closed accordion. There will be perforations between each form. In addition, another separate card will be delivered along with the kit which is a reminder of the local ZIP Code.

Last year approximately 75,000 addresses were ZIP Coded by the Hope Post Office as part of a similar program using only one (or two) cards with spaces for as many as 13 addresses, Postmaster Brannan said.

Nationally, about eight addresses per card were returned during the 1966 project.

The unit cost of entering the code onto each card will be less than the system used in 1966 because no look-up will be necessary. Every card in the final post office will need the same code, so an inexperienced clerk will be able to stamp it on the card and send the form on its return journey.

On an average day, between 175 and 250 million new pieces of mail enter the postal system. It is not expected that more than 10 million of the Zip-A-List cards will be in the system at any one time during the peak periods of mailing. Since they will be handled essentially as ordinary postal cards, there will be no burden or dislocation of service.

"The ultimate result will be an improvement in service," Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has said about the project. "Zip Code is the base upon which the modern postal service is being built. But, it won't work and the modernization and efficiencies the Zip Code will bring cannot go into effect, until there is more widespread usage of the five-number code."

"The Zip-A-List project is the most dramatic aspect of our continuing campaign to make Zip Codes readily available to the public."

Last year, approximately 17 per cent of the nation's householders returned 96 million addresses for coding. The Postmaster General reported that many postmasters had informed the Department that the Zip-A-List project was an important aspect in making Christmas mailers aware of the importance of using the codes on their holiday mail and as an off-shoot, encouraged early mailing of their gifts and cards. This resulted in the most successful holiday season in recent postal history.

Extra kits will be available at the post office.

The Queen Carried the Famous

By CAROL KENNEDY
A BOARD THE QUEEN MARY (AP) — "If you sailed the seas for a hundred years," said the Irish steward, "you'd never come across such a gathering of famous people as this room has seen."

He swept an arm around the Verandah Grill, a black-carpeted room with tall windows looking out to sea—for 31 years and ocean rendezvous for the rich and renowned of Europe and North American. But now, as the old liner sailed into the sunset from Cherbourg on her 994th Atlantic crossing there were only four diners at tables where Windsors, Churchills, Kennedys, dukes, diplomats and movie stars once held court.

Elsewhere in the magnificent first-class quarters of the ship it was the same. In the opulent Midships Bar a solitary, sport-shirted New York tycoon toyed with a champagne cocktail. In the palatial lounge, one of the largest rooms afloat, a four-piece band with sobbing saxophone played fox trots for three couples.

Although westbound voyages traditionally are less busy in high summer than the New York-Europe run, the rooms told their own story why the Queen Mary had to go on the auction block and sell her days as a floating museum and convention center in Long Beach, Calif.

People just aren't traveling in the high old prewar style anymore. If they don't go by jet—one-third the price of a first-class cabin on the Queens—they often choose a one-class or two-class ship.

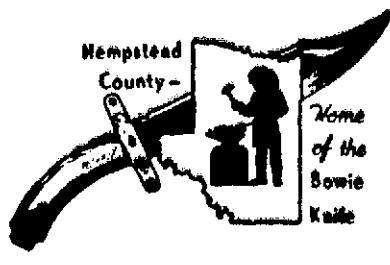

On the new Cunarder that will replace the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth old-style class distinctions will be abolished. Cabins will sell at varying prices, with public rooms common to all.

For the few who can afford to pay up to $800 for 4 1/2 days of pampered isolation on the Atlantic, however, there will never be a way of travel to match the vanishing Queens.

"When does this place get to England?" asked comedienne Bea Lillie halfway through one voyage, a little dazed by the space and solidity of this floating grand hotel with its 38 public rooms, six miles of carpet, 700 electric clocks and shopping center known as Piccadilly Circus.

A Couple of Notes on Highway Safety; For France Alone

Here are a couple of notes on highway safety—one for pedestrians, the other for drivers:

One of the best cautions to pedestrians on how to cross a street or highway is the old familiar:

Look to your left until you get to the road's centerline—then look to the right. If something hits you it won't be because you didn't see it coming.

This one is for drivers. Traffic is heavy and the pace is slow. But a hole opens up ahead of the truck you are trailing and so you pull out to go around it. Just then a fast oncoming car looms ahead and you think about scrambling back to safety in the spot behind the truck you just left—but the unwary driver behind you has moved up and closed the hole!

This is one of the unwritten rules of the road: When the man ahead of you pulls out of your lane to pass don't close up the hole until you are sure he has gotten around safely. If you do, you risk having him sideswipe you as the alternative to a head-on collision.

The French republic aims to go its own way economically as well as politically—but when it chose to set up its own kind of television transmission, which wouldn't work with the system adopted by the rest of Europe, it invited financial trouble.

A cable from Paris in Thursday's Wall Street Journal reports that two of France's major electronic companies which have lost money fooling with that country's non-compatible TV system, are planning to merge.

France originally had the choice of installing the same TV system used by the United States, Great Britain, and all of Europe except Russia, or "go it alone" with Russia — and France followed her political inclination and tied up with Russia.

You can imagine the problem confronting French manufacturers — trying to sell other Europeans, the British, and Americans television transmission equipment and receivers which would work only in French or Russian!

Politics is politics; but so business is business—and for once in their lives the careful French have been most business-like.

Cockrill Says WR Overly Optimistic

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—House Speaker Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock said today he thought Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller was being "overly optimistic" about the Republicans' election chances in Arkansas in 1968.

Rockefeller said Thursday night at Fort Smith that the GOP could gain as many as 31 General Assembly seats in 1968.

"There are not that many dyes in the wool Republicans who will elect Republicans as such," Cockrill said. "If they have good candidates they may be successful in electing a few more than they have now."

The GOP holds three seats in the legislature — all in the House.

Cockrill said he didn't think Rockefeller's administration will convince the voters of a need for more Republican office holders.

"The Republicans have not delivered a whole lot to make people say that Republicans as such can do a better job than Democrats," he said.

The meetings will be open to the public.

Spending Cut United Fund Chairman Sought in Tax Hike Bid

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson Administration is reportedly preparing a list of specific spending cuts in a bid to give its proposed tax surcharge a push through a balky Congress.

The House Ways and Means Committee begins closed meetings Monday on the plan to raise individual and corporate income taxes 10 per cent.

Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., has implied more and more strongly that his committee may not act on the tax surcharge proposal until Johnson recommends specific reductions in spending.

The administration promised to chop civilian spending by at least $2 billion but never said where the cuts would come.

Johnson scheduled a meeting for today with his Budget Bureau director, Charles L. Schultze, but Schultze declined to say beforehand what they planned to discuss.

It was learned, however, that reductions were discussed at a high-level government meeting Thursday. There has been much "pulling and hauling" over where the cuts should be made, it was said.

The Budget Bureau has been working on possible belt-tightening for several months and there has been talk among government workers of urgent appeals from the bureau to cut down on overtime pay.

Johnson asked all departments and agencies several months ago to spell out areas where cuts might be made. Replies have been screened by the Budget Bureau.

Schultze said Thursday cuts in civilian programs must come from the $20 billion in planned spending which can be controlled. Other payments, he said, involve veterans benefits, interest on the debt, commitments on contracts already awarded and spending dictated by law.

Show Specializes in Exhibiting Inventions From All Over World

By PHIL THOMAS

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Chymbur has a pair of shoes that are four-feet long.

They're special shoes, of course. Used to slide across the surfaces of lakes. Sort of like wearing a personal pontoon bridge.

Chymbur calls them "skeeters." He invented them.

They're on exhibit here this week at the third annual International Inventors and New Products Exposition. The show has drawn some 1,200 inventors from 23 countries with 15,000 products, inventions, ideas and applications, ranging from digestible safety pins made of vegetable base that dissolve if swallowed to instant splints for unexpected bone breakings.

Roger Shashoua, 27-year-old president of Patent Exhibits, Inc., of New York and originator of the exposition, estimated that 95 per cent of those participating in the show were inventors who never had invented anything before in their lives.

"They're plumbers, malmen, carpenters, almost anything," Shashoua says, "who get an idea they think will improve things. They develop it and then they bring it here in hope of finding a manufacturer."

How many do connect? "At last year's show, manufacturers paid out about $8.5 million to buy various inventions and ideas," he says. "This year we're expecting the figure to hit $20 million."

Pentagon Drive on to Recruit More Negroes Into National Guard

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon has ordered a crash advertising campaign, complete with rock 'n' roll, radio commercials and full-color billboards, in an effort to pep up a pilot program to recruit more Negroes into the National Guard.

The 90-day advertising blitz will zero in on Negro neighborhoods in New Jersey. That state was selected as the testing ground for what may become a nationwide drive to increase Negro membership in the Guard—a move recommended recently by a presidential panel.

Fifty-one Negroes have been accepted and another 134 have applied in the month since the Pentagon slashed red tape and granted the 14,000-member New Jersey Guard 700 new slots reserved exclusively for Negroes.

A few other states also have asked for overstrength authorization so they can step up recruiting of Negroes. But the Pentagon is withholding action on these requests until the New Jersey project can be evaluated, probably in mid-December.

time to invent, says he spent four years developing his water shoes. But the idea had been with him since boyhood.

Chymbur, who hopes to interest a manufacturer in his invention, says the water shoes are made of a buoyant material with ladders mounted beneath the surface to give traction "so you can slide along."

Not too far from Chymbur, Robert L. Thomas of East Point, Ga., is exhibiting a "personal ashtray"—a device that permits a person to smoke without having to look around for an ashtray.

The device basically is a long tube into which a cigarette is inserted after being lit. As the cigarette is consumed its ashes fall into the tube. When the smoker is done, a slide at the top of the tube is closed and the cigarette puts itself out.

The closed tube can be put into the pocket and carried about with its load of ashes until it is convenient to empty it.

McLarty brings to this important task a kind of enthusiasm that is catching and a wealth of experience in community activities that guarantees success in this area of our Fund activity," said Mr. Pruden in making the appointment.

U.S. Seeks Evidence of Peace Talk

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—A new burst of Vietnamese peace talk, coming at least in part from Hanoi, started U.S. officials searching today for evidence that the North Vietnamese government might be developing an interest in negotiations. But the initial reaction here was both cautious and skeptical.

Canadian foreign secretary Paul Martin told a news conference at Ottawa yesterday that North Vietnamese authorities have expressed some interest in possible ways to start talks on ending the war.

State Department officials in Washington had been informed that a Canadian diplomat, O.W. Dier, was visiting briefly in Hanoi. But officials said they had not yet been given a report on the reported new display of interest by North Vietnamese authorities.

Parallel with this development, Johnson administration leaders were studying a six-page dispatch distributed yesterday by the French news agency Agence France-Presse. This quoted "reliable sources" in Hanoi as saying that an unconditional halt in U.S. bombing could lead to talks between North Vietnam and the United States in three or four weeks.

Administration informants said that the United States lacked any independent indication that the line taken by the news agency's informants was significant or represented a new turn in North Vietnamese peace maneuvering. Nevertheless, indications were that President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk would make soundings through diplomatic channels to see whether some significant development was occurring.

The interpretation in the news dispatch from Hanoi was based on a widely publicized speech made by North Vietnamese Premier Phan Van Dong at the end of August.

Dzu said the money was not transferred out of Vietnam but was put in the San Francisco bank by American friends to pay for the education of two of his children. One is studying at the University of California at Los Angeles and the other at Stanford University.

He said most of the money was from friends in Rotary International, of which Dzu is a member.

Pentagon Says No Bombing of Haiphong

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon indirectly has let North Vietnam know its major port of Haiphong is safe from U.S. air attack—at least for the present.

In an unusual tip to an enemy, top Pentagon spokesman Phil G. Goulding said Thursday there's no truth to published reports that U.S. raiders have been given approval to attack the port of Haiphong. "Attacks on the port facilities are not approved," he said.

The statement followed air attacks earlier this week on the Port of Cam Pha and on facilities not far removed from Haiphong's dock areas.

The administration previously has given North Vietnam little indication that specific targets were off-limits to bombers.

Auto Insurance Hike Granted

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 25 per cent increase in automobile rates requested by the Crum & Forster Insurance Group was granted Thursday by state Insurance Commissioner John Norman Harkey.

The organization presented statistical data justifying a 37 per cent increase, but asked for only a 25 per cent hike, Harkey said.

Chattanooga Mayor Backed

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Mayor Ralph Kelley, who directed Chattanooga's seizure of the famed civil war locomotive, the General, says he has received letters of support from all over the nation. One letter, Kelley said, read:

"Legal schmeagal, we're with you, baby. Even if you lose, you got class."

The General has been placed under wraps here while its future is being determined in court battles between the city and Georgia.

The Loser in Vietnam Presidential Race Draws Prison Term

SAIGON (AP)—The No. 2 man in South Vietnam's presidential race, Truong Dinh Dzu, was convicted today of writing a bad check five years ago and transferring money abroad illegally last year.

The Saigon criminal court sentenced him to three months in prison on the check charge and six months on the other and fined him $27,711. The sentences are to be served concurrently, meaning a total of six months in prison.

Dzu, who was not in court for the trial, said the charges were false and he would appeal the conviction. He charged the military government was trying to get him because of his political opposition to it.

Dzu, a lawyer, was acquitted on a third charge that he collected a fee of 150,000 piasters—$1,270—from a Vietnamese client he had not defended.

Early this year he was the attorney for several Americans imprisoned on currency charges who accused him of trying to extort money from them, but no formal charges have been filed against him in that case.

Dzu ran second in the election to the military ticket made up of Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. He campaigned on charges against the government and a promise to seek peace.

Since the election he has charged the Thieu-Ky military government with stealing the election.

Dzu and five other defeated presidential candidates on Thursday announced the formation of a "militant democratic opposition front" to oppose the new government of President-elect Thieu and Vice President-elect Ky.

Dzu was charged with illegally transferring $11,500 to an account in the Bank of America in San Francisco.

Dzu said the money was not transferred out of Vietnam but was put in the San Francisco bank by American friends to pay for the education of two of his children. One is studying at the University of California at Los Angeles and the other at Stanford University.

He said most of the money was from friends in Rotary International, of which Dzu is a member.

Escapee Still at Large

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP)—Carl LeMasters, 27, of Twist (Poinsett County), a slender 152-pounder who slithered through cell bars only eight inches apart in an escape from the jail here Wednesday night, was still at large today.

LeMasters was being held for several traffic violations and a charge of resisting arrest.

Patrolman Neal Johnson said officers still hadn't figured out how LeMasters managed to get between the bars, which covered an open space near the ceiling on the wall of his cell.

Johnson said another occupant of the cell slept through LeMaster's escape.

Guerrillas Flushed by U.S. Forces

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP)—A crack American Army combat team stormed ashore from river gunboats today, flushed 500 hard-core guerrillas in the muddy Mekong delta and looked with them in a bloody battle.

Initial reports told of continuing fighting in the rainswept paddyfields 45 miles southwest of Saigon.

Communist gunners shot a strafing F100 U.S. Sabre Jet from the skies, but the pilot ejected about four miles from the raging battle and a helicopter rescued him.

The eruption of fighting in the delta paralleled continued heavy Communist pressure along South Vietnam's northern rim where artillery and mortar duels spanned the Demilitarized Zone and high-flying B52 bombers drubbed suspected Red staging areas with tons of bombs.

With heavy weather again limiting missions over North Vietnam, U.S. fighter-bombers also concentrated on the DMZ battlefield where all signs point to a powerful Red buildup.

The guerrilla battalion caught in the Mekong delta was a companion unit to the hard-core 514th Battalion which lost 134 dead in the same area only two days before. That outfit had gone into battle with new green fatigues and jaunty red scarves, indicating its elite status.

The battle today broke out shortly after dawn as a battalion of the U. S. 9th Infantry Division disembarked from gunboats that pushed up the Rach Ba River, which flows sluggishly into the Mekong.

As the infantrymen hit the beach they were struck by fire from machine guns and recoilless rifles. The Navy gunboats opened up with cannon and mortar fire.

A second American battalion moved up in support and a third battalion swept into blocking positions just to the north, putting some 2,000 Americans on the battlefield.

Jet planes from bases barely 10 minutes away began to rake the guerrilla battalion with bombs and rockets, churning the delta mud and ripping apart the bamboo stands where the Reds sought cover.

The infantry operation was a sample of the new delta tactic called riverine warfare in which quick-striking forces move by shallow-draft gunboats from Navy barracks ships moved close inshore. The battle today was in Dinh Tuong Province where the Viet Cong was totally unopposed until the river forces moved in early this year.

In the north along the Demilitarized Zone, U.S. Headquarters reported 15 Marines were killed and 58 were wounded by Communists.

U.S. Wasted Millions, Says Prober

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has wasted millions of dollars in shipping broken-down construction equipment to Vietnam, says a Senate investigator.

The money was spent to repair equipment, Joseph Lippman said Thursday, but much of the machinery wasn't repaired or was beyond repair.

Lippman, chief investigator for the Senate subcommittee on foreign aid expenditures, blamed the foulup on the Agency for International Development. He said AID paid contractors to put the equipment, most of it armed services surplus, in working order.

H. Rex Lee, assistant AID administrator, said the equipment was sent in to help the Army cope with the problem of unloading ships during the massive U.S. military buildup. Much of the equipment has since been put to use elsewhere, he added.

But Lee conceded some machinery was irreparable and useless, and added: "In a case of this type, where you have a big buildup in war conditions, mistakes are bound to happen."

Lowell Harris,
